Bearing in mind the importance the Council of Europe attaches to partnership between governments and youth organisations and networks in drawing up and implementing its youth policy;

Bearing in mind the objectives of the Council of Europe's youth sector, namely:

- To help young people to find ways of meeting both the challenges facing them and their own aspirations;
- To encourage young people to be actors in the process of bringing about a closer European unity based on the principles and values of pluralist democracy, human rights and the rule of law;
- To empower young people, through non-formal education/learning and participation methods, to play an active role in the strengthening of civil society in Europe;
- To promote and support the development of youth policies in Europe;

We, European Ministers responsible for youth, meeting in Budapest on 23-24 September 2005, declare that the following should be regarded as priority fields of the youth sector for the next three years:

In this context, we attach great importance to the implementation of the 2006-2007 European Youth Campaign on Diversity, Human Rights and Participation, conceived in the spirit of the 1995 Campaign "All different-all equal", as decided as part of the Action Plan adopted by the Heads of State and Government during their third Summit in Warsaw, on 16-17 May 2005. We shall undertake all necessary efforts to support the implementation of the Campaign at European, national and local levels.

The overall programme of the youth sector should be implemented bearing in mind the importance that the youth dimension is better taken into consideration in other activity sectors of the Council of Europe. This implies in particular:

- the participation of representatives of the statutory bodies of the youth sector in a number of steering committees and other working structures of the Council of Europe;
- the consultation of the Advisory Council on Youth by the Committee of Ministers or by subordinated intergovernmental committees, regarding legal texts which have a specific impact on young people;
- the active co-operation of the youth sector with other sectors of the Council of Europe and its participation in the multidisciplinary programmes of the Organisation.

In implementing its priorities, the youth sector, with the involvement of its relevant statutory bodies, should also strengthen its co-operation with other international organisations (e.g. UNESCO, UNICEF, World Bank) and, in particular, with the European Union, through agreements. Such co-operation should focus on training of youth leaders and youth workers, research in the youth field and information and documentation, and Euro-Mediterranean Co-operation.
